Introduction

LABIRIN, a groundbreaking laboratory within the International Relations study program at the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences, is dedicated to nurturing a generation of skilled and knowledgeable graduates. Our mission is to develop three distinct professional profiles: bureaucrats who navigate the complexities of governance, researchers making impactful discoveries, and activists championing social change. Through a dynamic five-year strategic plan, LABIRIN empowers students to unlock their potential and prepare for diverse, meaningful career paths.

Vision

Our vision is to emerge as a premier laboratory in Indonesia, renowned for producing exceptional graduates who are equipped with the knowledge, practical skills, and ethical values necessary to tackle the most pressing global challenges.

Mission

Our mission is to create an inspiring and inclusive learning environment that empowers students to:

- Cultivate critical thinking and problem-solving skills that enable them to navigate complex challenges.
- Acquire practical experience in diplomacy, research, activism, and international trade while bridging the gap between theory and practice.
- Embrace a global perspective, fostering intercultural competence as they engage with diverse communities.
- Drive positive social change, actively participating in initiatives that promote justice, sustainability, and human rights.

Future Plan

In alignment with our vision, LABIRIN will focus on evolving and expanding its offerings over the next five years. Our primary areas of concentration will include:

- Strengthening Partnerships: Collaborating with international organizations, universities, and businesses to provide students with global exposure and opportunities.
- Enhancing Infrastructure: Investing in state-of-the-art facilities, including a research library, computer lab, and multimedia room.
- Developing Innovative Programs: Launching new programs, such as a summer internship program and a certificate course in international relations.
- Promoting Interdisciplinary Collaboration: Fostering partnerships with other academic disciplines, such as economics, law, and political science, to address complex global challenges.
- Measuring Impact: Regularly evaluating the effectiveness of LABIRIN's programs and making data-driven adjustments to improve outcomes.

By concentrating on these key areas, LABIRIN aspires to solidify its status as a leading laboratory in Indonesia, nurturing the next generation of skilled, compassionate global citizens prepared to engage and respond to the challenges of our time.. The laboratory focuses on nurturing three distinct profiles: bureaucrats, researchers, and activists. Through a strategic five-year plan, LABIRIN provides students with a platform to develop their abilities and prepare for diverse career paths.
